Dear Hiring Manager,

As someone who is extremely passionate about developing content that has a practical use in peoples lives, I was extremely excited to hear about your need for a Marketing Web Production Coordinator. I am an enthusiastic and team-driven individual, and I'm confident that my personality and experience as a developer both in and outside of the classroom will make me a valuable member.

Last summer I enrolled in General Assembly's Web Development Immersive program. My time in the program gave me extensive knowledge of full stack development and gave me the confidence to tackle ambitious projects while working in a team environment. Since graduating in the fall, I have taken my experience and built upon it by working on projects that I find are useful to people. This has allowed me to take my knowledge beyond the browser and build applications such as a cross-platform mobile app with react-native that allows me to log my exercise and a desktop application with the electron framework that displays personalized content to an individual user. If given the chance, I would love to apply my passion and experience to helping 2U build content that helps people all over the world learn and do what they love.

Thank you very much for taking time out of your busy schedule to read my letter. I have attached my resume for your consideration. If you would like to get in touch with me, feel free to call or email me at any time.

Best Regards,

Daniel Mercia
